THE ADFA LETTERS
FREYA STARK'S CORRESPONDENCE WITH SIR HARRY LUKE
Edited by CHRISTINE CAMPBELL

Few women of any age can have lived a more varied life than did travel writer, Dame Freya Stark (1893–1993). This slender volume of letters written to her old friend Sir Harry Luke contains the only unbroken series of her published letters addressed to a single correspondent and is the only one to have been presented unabridged, extensively researched and carefully edited. An extended biographical essay precedes the letters, offering a new interpretation of her intriguing life.

The title is published jointly by the AUSTRALIAN SCHOLARLY EDITIONS CENTRE and the Library at ADFA.
